Lecture Synopsis sample proof

PES MODERN COLLEGE OF PHARMACY (FOR LADIES), MOSHI

Lecture No: 1 Sub: PHARMACEUTICAL ORGANIC CHEMISTRY III (BP401T)

Name of topic/lesson – Introduction to Stereoisomerism

Subtopic: Definition of Stereoisomerism

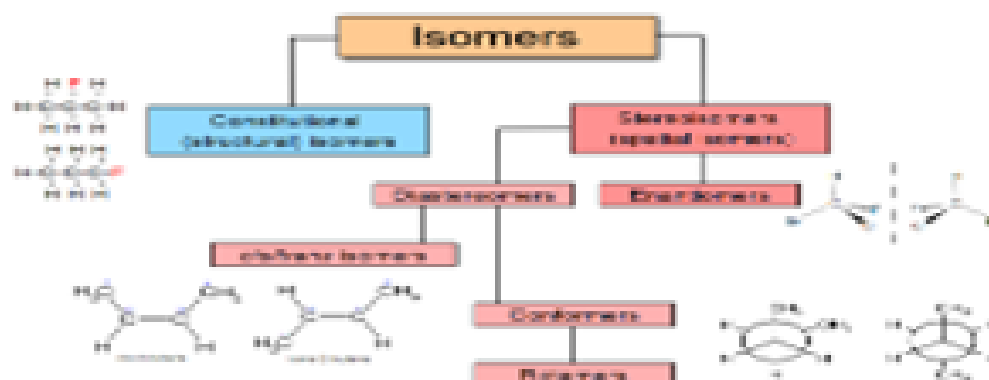

Objective: To Study about Definition of Stereoisomerism

Topic Outcomes: At the end of topic you will

1. Know about definition of Stereoisomerism

Definition: Stereo isomers are molecules that have the same molecular formula and differ only in how their atoms are arranged in three-dimensional space and the stereoisomer category has several further subcategories. Two main types of stereo isomers are geometrical isomers and optical isomers.

In stereochemistry, stereoisomerism, or spatial isomerism, is a form of isomerism in which molecules have the same molecular formula and sequence of bonded atoms (constitution), but differ in the three-dimensional orientations of their atoms in space. This contrasts with structural isomers, which share the same molecular formula, but the bond connections or their order differs. By definition, molecules that are stereoisomer of each other represent the same structural isomer.

Summary Card Sample

FIRST YEAR / PHARMACEUTICAL ANALYSIS-I/ DRK

SUMMARY CARD NO-1

DEFINITION:

Pharmaceutical analysis is a branch of practical chemistry that involves a series of process for identification, determination, quantification and purification of a substance, separation of the components of a solution or mixture, or determination of structure of chemical compounds.

Chemical Analysis is a method for determining the substance, its amount or impurity and plays a vital role in the pharmacy.

• Analytical chemistry – Methods

1. Qualitative analysis
2. Quantitative analysis

• Qualitative or physical analysis

Recognition of chemical species by means of:

- Colour, taste, Viscosity and solubility
- Reaction producing a colour
- Reaction producing a precipitate
- Reaction involving a change of a physical parameter.

• Quantitative chemical analysis

Quantitative chemical analysis carried out by determining the volume of a solution of accurately known concentration which is required to react quantitatively with a measured volume of the Substance to be determined.

Subject: Suggestions regarding revision in Syllabus for year 2020-2021

Dear Sir/ Madam,

Please consider following topics along with the contents for revision of the syllabus of B. Pharm (PCI PATTERN). As per our opinion following Syllabus is important and is not included in the PCI syllabus. We have also suggested the topics that can be omitted from the syllabus as they have been given adequate emphasis elsewhere. As per the NBA guidelines, each course should have course objectives. Although the course objectives are provided by SPPU, they may need revision so that they can be directly used as recommended by NBA.

Please consider the following points for syllabus revision

Thanking you

Time	08.00 am to 10.00 am
Participation	10.00 am to 12.00 pm
Organizers	All students B. Pharm, M. Pharm, Teaching Faculty, Nonteaching faculty
Place of Activity	College Campus
Summary	Every year on January 26, India celebrates Republic Day. The nation will commemorate its 73rd Republic Day in 2022. The day was greatly observed at our university. We were all quite proud of it, so everyone was feeling very patriotic and delighted about it. After all, India became a republic on this day when the Indian Constitution went into effect. On the MCPL campus, we raise the flag on this particular day. Republic Day celebrations revolve around several activities, including faculty and student dances to a Republic Day theme, speeches honoring freedom warriors, and patriotic song singing. Students give brief speeches on independence heroes and Corona Warriors after Dhole Sir hosts the flag at the start of the program. A few pupils performed some really motivational national songs in unison. The children, instructors, and a few well-known people gave moving statements after these. At the end of the program, all of the students received refreshments and candies.
